Rave Review: Ruffy and Me by Dave Trumbull

Get ready for a whirlwind adventure around the world! The main character and his dog Ruffy sit in a tidy room, with toys and travel souvenirs packed neatly on shelves. 'We were bored at home, Ruffy and me. What if we went travelling? Imagine what we'd see.'

The main character (who could be a boy or girl), spins a world globe and we are suddenly on a rocking adventure

I love this book because the pictures showed me other countries and tourist spots. There is so much to discover in the cartoon-like illustrations. In Australia you'll see the Sydney Opera house, Uluru and the Giant Pineapple.

Parents and children from 2-5 years old will love this book and have plenty of fun as they search for three llamas in Peru or three pandas in China. What an awesome way to practice searching and counting.

I rate this book 5 out of 5 stars!
